“ Paul was a man who served Royse City well during its difficult financial times and then later during a challenging period of growth. Both the financial acumen and effective leadership he shared while he served as a Council Person and Mayor are part of the legacy he leaves his family, his friends and our City. Paul, go rest high on that mountain. Dana Thomason

“ PJ.... I can't even start to explain my love and admiration for this man that I love so much. From homemade ice cream on summer days after playing in the little plastic pool to buying me ear muffs for the loud noise when I went to the movies to watch "Spirit" for the 5th time, he was always there to help with a twinkle in his eye. I feel like it was yesterday that he, Nanny and my sisters were rocking back and forth in rocking chairs at Mike and Laverne's farm, breathing in the summer air and enjoying the simplicity of the moment. He sponsored the Fisk Girls Movie Company (yes, we have the weirdest and most dysfunctional videos ever filmed with his video camera) and would follow up our days of filming with steak and Yorkshire pudding. At night, he would pull out his guitar and strum "My Little Sunshine" in the most delicate and beautiful way, as my sisters and I would gather around in our PJs, falling asleep to the music. The mornings at their house were filled with the aroma of pancakes and syrup, and of course he would already have been working on that crossword puzzle of his for three hours before my sisters and I would raise an eyelid. Everything he did for us - everything resembles such a golden time of my life that I will never forget and always cherish. I can't imagine growing up without him. I wouldn't be who I am today. I love you PJ, and I always will. Thank you for everything.

“ Paul was my closest friend. Since my father died while I was still young, I would go to Paul for fatherly advice. We also enjoyed camp-outs at Pruney's farm, where a lot of memories came from, some I can't even talk about here. Many a happy hour was spent on Paul and Fraya's patio. I truly enjoyed those times more than all the others. Paul and I were on the city council at one time and, believe it or not, we had times that we didn't agree. Paul would say, "I'm going to talk to Ouida and she will change your way of thinking." I love you, Paul Jones Fiske, and may God bless you.
